To help complete the Rhode Island increment of 1751 men 1200 of which went to Camp Upton, last Tuesday, more than 800 registrants of 1918, who volunteered and received, will be added next Tuesday. The selective boards are engaged in filling the following current calls in the following limited service men to go to Syracuse, N. Y., on Monday: 98 volunteers in special calls who go to Camp Forest, Ga., also on Monday; 217 colored men to go to Camp Devens, August 10; 100 new registrants to go to Fort Slocum, August 7; and all physicians in Class 1, limited service, who will be sent to Fort Slocum on August 11. Enough new registrants have volunteered to fill the Fort Slocum call for August 7.

Although orders issued last Wednesday withdrew from the registrants who are in Class 1 the privilege of voluntary enlistment in the navy, Captain Webb, director of the draft for the state, ruled last Friday that men held for limited service in Class 1, who are within current quotas, may be given permits to enter the navy. The navy will accept limited service men provided they have certain mechanical training and ability.

Dr. Samuel C. Webster, superintendent of health for the town of Westerly attended the annual meeting of the health officers of Rhode Island, Thursday afternoon at the Warwick club, and took active part in the debate suggesting changes in the present health rules. The last methods in which some diseases are reported to the state board of health were assailed. Dr. Byron W. Richards, secretary of the state board, emphasized the need of reporting every case of typhoid fever as much suffering and damage has resulted through the delay or failure of physicians to report such cases. He said it was equally important that prompt reports be made of all cases in which a report is required.

Dr. Harry Kimball of Providence, director of certain communicable and contagious diseases, under joint sanction of the American Public Health association and the State Board of Health, spoke of the work under his charge and appealed to the health officers and physicians generally to cooperate in this branch of work which was one of the most important of war measures.

Dr. M. H. Houghton, of the American Public Health association, and port physician of Providence, told of the work which comes under his jurisdiction, and of the increase during the past year by reason of war.

Arthur G. Payette of Willimantic, was committed to the Providence County Jail Thursday evening.

Thomas E. Brown chief of police of Westerly, to commence his term of three months' sentence for the larceny of $3 from the Andrews Coal Co.

Payette declared that he would rather go to jail than into the army, he did not believe the selective board of Willimantic had the power to take him out of a Rhode Island prison and induct him into the army, and he would see to it that when he got away from prison he would get beyond the reach of the draft board.

He was bitter against the head of the Andrews company for having him arrested for the theft of $3, which he did not steal, but simply forgot to turn in the amount paid him for coal. He said that an employer in Willimantic did not have him arrested when he lost $30 through a hole in his pockets, illustrative between his employers in Westerly and Willimantic.

Friday of last week, Judge Oliver H. Williams in the Third District court, in passing upon the petition of Anna Burdick to be admitted to take the poor debtor's oath, declared he could see no reason why the petition should not be granted. The case was continued to Friday of this week to give opportunity to any party in interest to interpose objection. There was no opposition in court and Judge Williams called for the statute requirements in regard to the admission of property and the selection of an assignee. Mr. Burdick did not heed the instruction of his counsel in this particular, and did not have the requirements on paper. However, he nominated Deputy Sheriff Frederick T. Mitchell, as assignee. Mr. Mitchell declined and Judge Williams did not think he would approve the nomination of an officer of the court anyway. In order to give the petitioner opportunity to meet the law requirements in connection with the petition the case was further continued to next Friday.

Thomas Buell Card, son of Captain Henry C. Card, of Woonsocket, formerly of Westerly, has received a commission as second lieutenant in the United States Aviation corps, and has been appointed as instructor in flying at Eberh. field, Lonoke, Arkansas, where he received his training in military aviation. Out of Lieutenant Card's class that went from Phac to Lonoke only four have thus far been commissioned. Only seven out of several men commissioned at Lonoke have been chosen as instructors and Lieutenant Card is the youngest.

He will be twenty-two years of age in September and was graduated as an honor pupil from the Woonsocket High school, class of 1916. He entered the Worcester Polytechnic school in the class of 1920 and left last fall in his sophomore year to train for a commission in the aviators' corps. He attended the government school of aeronautics of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and later attended a similar school at Cornell university. From there he went to Camp Dick, Dallas, Texas, and then to Lonoke.

Captain Card, Lieutenant Card's father, commanded a volunteer company in the Spanish war. His grandfathers both served in the Civil war one of them Captain in the 1st Maine.

Buell is at his summer home at Sakomet Point. The other, Colonel Henry S. Card, of Westerly, died several years ago.

Thursday, just before midnight, an attempt was made to have a noisy celebration of allied victory, a repetition of a week ago, in which the whole population of Westerly participated, but the effort was nipped. A report came in the early evening that the allies had captured 400,000 Germans, including the crown prince and staff, and real enthusiasm was bottled up, in waiting for verification that did not come. Young fellows decided to start something.

One more venturesome than the rest pulled in an alarm from the firebox in Pawcatuck and got out the department of that village, and a crowd assembled in expectation of a repetition of the demonstration a week ago. But when Chief Engineer Henry A. Stahle ordered the fire apparatus back to quarters, and offered a reward of $50 for the detection of the chap who sent in the false alarm for fire, there was dampening of the ardor that prevailed a short time before.

Just about this time Patrolman McKnight interposed and dispersed a crowd that was forming for a parade and threatened to arrest any person who made noise that would be liable to disturb the public peace.

Local Laconics.
The employees of the Ashaway Line and Tine company were at Atlantic beach Friday.

The machinery of the Westerly Dye works is being shipped to the plant of the Danielson Cotton company, in Danielson.

The old Langworthy farm house, in Tompaquag, owned and occupied by Edgar Babcock, and family, was totally destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon.

The funeral of Miss Catherine Harvey was held Friday with a mass of requiem, Rev. John J. Fitzgerald, celebrant of the St. Michael's church. Burial was in St. Michael's cemetery. The bearers were Edward F. McKoon of Harrison, N. J., Edward J. Montague, James McKenna and Joseph Montague.

Frederick Cahoon, who went to Camp Upton Tuesday with the Westerly quota of the Rhode Island increment, has returned home, having been honorably discharged, on account of physical disability. He said 45 from the state were turned back, including besides himself, an East Warwick man from State Division No. 1.
